- Journal Scope: Quarterly published in print and online "Inveni Impact: Nursing Research" publishes high quality unpublished as well as high impact pre-published research and reviews catering to the needs of researchers and professionals. The journal welcomes articles in all the nursing specialties including such areas as patient education, discharge planning, nursing diagnosis, nursing influence on length of hospital stay and nurse/physician collaboration.
- Frequency: Quarterly
- E-ISSN: 2454-8820
- P-ISSN: Available
- Articles: Inveni:hnr/29947/19
- Article Title: "Teaching: Individual" to Increase Adherence to Therapeutic Regimen in People with Hypertension and Type-2 Diabetes: Protocol of the Controlled Clinical Trial ENURSN.
- Author: Sindhu Lactus Babu, Ganesha Govindar, David A. A. K. Rana, Lydia Z. Reyes
- Background: Worldwide, hypertension affects approximately 25% of the adult population and diabetes about 8.5%. Lack of adherence to prescribed treatment regimen remains a problem among patients undergoing long-term treatment, showing high non-adherence rates, at estimated range of between 36 and 93%. In our city, patients with hypertension and diabetes in primary care are looked after mainly by doctors with little nursing support; also, there is no published dataset among children in population on the effect of exercise intervention to improve adherence to therapeutic regimen. The aim of the study was to evaluate the efficacy of
